

White Men Apologizing

Ilgin G. Korugan

Bill Clinton: The united states government did something that was wrong. Deeply, profoundly, morally ...wrong.

Logan Paul: I've made a severe and continuous lapse of my judgement, and I don't expect to be forgiven. I'm simply here to apologize.

Senator Al Franken: Again, it's gonna take a long time for me to regain people's trust

Clinton: ...commitment to rebuild that broken trust.

Clinton: An apology is the first step

Australian Prime Minister Kevin Rudd: Today we take this first step by acknowledging the past

A reporter on the Pope's apology: He says that this letter is one step in a very long journey

Franken: ...ready to start that process

Pope: ...this will be a quick or simple process

Rudd: We can be a bit slow sometimes, but we got here.

U.S. apology for hospital bombing in Afghanistan: We would never intentionally target –

A reporter on George H.W. Bush sexual assault apology: ...never under any circumstance intentionally cause anyone distress, and he most sincerely...

Franken: ...the ethics investigation...

NATO Leader apologizes to Afghans for airstrike on a convoy of civilians: ...says an investigation is underway both to see what led to the strike, and how to prevent accidents in the future

Franken: ...this will not happen again

NATO: ...pledge to strengthen efforts to prevent further tragedy.

Franken: And I also...um...I'm going to... uh, try to learn from my mistakes.

Logan Paul: I made a huge mistake. I don't expect to be forgiven. I'm just here to apologize. I'm ashamed if my self

Joe Barton apology to BP: I'm ashamed of what happened in the white house yesterday

Logan Paul: ...and I promise to be better.

Clinton: What the United States government did was shameful and I...am... sorry.

Logan Paul: ... a lot of things I should have done differently, but I didn't. And for that, from the bottom of my heart, I am sorry.

Anthony Weiner: I'm here primarily to express my apologies to my wife and family.

New Jersey Governor Chris Christie: ...need to apologize to them for my failure as the governor....

Franken: ...and so, I apologize

Rudd: we apologize for the laws and policies...

[compilation of apologies]

Clinton: I apologize, and I am sorry.

Franken: ...this will not happen again.
